DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments, see the amendment, filed 10/19/05, with respect to the rejection(s) of claim(s) 3 under 35 USC 102(e) have been fully considered and are persuasive. Therefore, the rejection has been withdrawn. However, upon further consideration, a new ground(s) of rejection is made in view of Glenn, US 6,891,568.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Glenn, US 6,891,568.

In regard to claim 3, Glenn, US 6,891,568, a method comprising steps of (1) operating a first sensor (130) of a camera to integrate a first charge over a first time interval (see column 4, lines 35-45: It is inherent the first sensor integrates the light received over a time interval that includes rotating the reflective sections (663 and 664) into the light path in order to be able to scan the signals), (2) operating a second sensor (120) of the camera to integrate a second charge over a second time interval and (see column 4, lines 35-45: It is inherent the second sensor integrates the light received over a time interval the includes rotating the transmission section (661) in order to be able to scan the signals) (3) scanning the first and second sensors to readout the respective first and second charges during a third time interval (see column 4, lines 40-42), wherein:

the step of operating the first sensor includes integrating the first charge in the first sensor while a first image light reflects from a first reflection sector of a rotatable structure onto the first sensor (see column 4, lines 43-44);

the step of operating the second sensor includes integrating the first charge in the second sensor while a second image light passes through a first transmission sector of the rotatable structure onto the second sensor(see column 4, lines 43-44);

the step of scanning includes transferring the integrated first and second charges from the respective first and second sensors while a first opaque sector on the rotatable structure prevents the first and second image light from impinging on at least one of the first and second sensors (see column 4, lines 40-43);

the first time interval overlaps the second time interval (see column 4, lines 37-43: the second time interval occurs in the middle of the first time interval);

the third time interval includes no overlapping time with the first time interval (see column 4, lines 37-45: the third time period starts after both sensors have finished integrating to transfer the data); and the third time interval includes no overlapping time with the second time interval (see column 4, lines 37-45: the third time period starts after both sensors have finished integrating to transfer the data).

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 1, 2, and 8 are allowed.

5. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

In regard to claims 1, 2, and 8, the prior art does not disclose a camera with the combination of limitations claimed, specifically the limitations of:

“a rotatable structure disposed to define a rotation plane that is oblique to both the reflected axis and the direct axis, the rotatable structure having a first reflection sector, a first opaque sector disposed adjacent to the first reflection section, a first transmission sector disposed adjacent to the first opaque sector, a second reflection sector disposed adjacent to the first transmission sector, and a second transmission sector disposed adjacent to the second reflection sector” as claimed in claim 1.

6. Claims 4-7 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
